

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7.

The administration is trying to manage a gun which will hit the mark if it is a deer, and to miss it if it is a cow. But the gun seems to kick, and sometimes very vigorously.

The rule, which has finally been adopted by Mr. Cleveland's staff. Until further notice, democratic office holders may make speeches endorsing the administration, but republican officeholders must not make speeches at all.

Recently there was held in London an exhibition of machinery, raw materials and product of brewing industry. On one side of a circular which was distributed among the visitors at the exhibition, were printed, what was called "useful items," and among the items were the following:

"London is the greatest city the world has ever seen."

"It covers 700 square miles, numbering 4,200,000 inhabitants."

"It contains more Jews than Palestine, more Roman Catholics than Rome, more Irish than Belfast, more Scotch than Aberdeen, more Welsh than Cardiff, and 230,000 foreigners from every part of the globe."

"It has so many beer shops and gin palaces that, if placed side by side, they would reach from Charing Cross to Chichester, a distance of sixty-two miles."

"It has as many piers as would more than occupy every house in Brighton."

"It has upward of 75,000 persons annually taken into custody by the police, including 25,000 arrested as drunk and disorderly, and one-third of all the crimes in the country is committed in it."

"London consumes 100,000,000 gallons of beer yearly, 10,000,000 gallons of stout, 21,000,000 pounds of a low quality of tea, and only 4,000,000 pounds of coffee."

A BAD CASE OF RHEUMATISM.

The New York Sun, which is democratic, calls attention to the fact that it happens to be an unfortunate thing that the president should have a spell of rheumatism while hammering away at his message. And then the Sun calls attention to another fact, and that is that the democratic party has been suffering from rheumatism during Mr. Cleveland's administration. The Sun then adds:

"The fall elections verified the diagnosis made by the best democratic doctors. What are the symptoms, do you ask, Mr. Cleveland? See here: Inflammation of the joints in Virginia and Indiana, for instance; chills in New York, Connecticut, and North Carolina; a fever of anxiety and impotence in the whole democratic system; and a decided loss of appetite for making a renomination in 1888. The disease has not yet become chronic, but it is getting acute. It may reach the heart if a change of treatment is not ordered."

"What is Mr. Cleveland taking for his rheumatism? Acetate of potash with Vichy water, shall we say? It is a very good remedy. We hope that whatever he takes will agree with him, and that he may be long enough to cure the rheumatism which plagues in the articulations of the democracy, there is just one medicine in the political pharmacopoeia which will do the business."

THE DEATH OF MR. PRICE.

Congressman William T. Price, whose illness has, from time to time, been announced in the Gazette, died at his home at Black River Falls on Monday morning. His death was not unexpected, as for several months he had been afflicted with a cancer in the stomach, and from the fatal effects of which there did not seem to be any escape.

William Thompson Price was born at Barre, Huntington county, Pa., June 17, 1824, and came to Wisconsin in 1845, locating at Black River Falls. He was a member of the assembly in 1851 and 1853, and of the senate in 1857, 1870-1, 1878, '9, '80 and '81, county judge of Jackson county in 1853 and 1855, and collector of internal revenue in 1863-5. He was elected as president of the county board of supervisors, was president of the Jackson county bank. He was a member of the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth congresses, and in November last had been re-elected as a member of the Fifty-first congress. A special election will therefore be necessary to fill the vacancy for the remainder of his present term and another election for the full term which begins March 4th next. By industry and splendid business tact, he had accumulated quite a fortune.

The state can ill-afford to lose such a man as William T. Price. He was a strange character in some respects, but a man of usefulness and power. He was not always consistent in the worldly way of thinking, but that was governed by a firm conviction of duty, no one who knew him would doubt for a moment. His friendship for his friends was as steadfast as the sun, and his hatred of his enemies seemed to know no bounds. In debate he was ready and strong, and in earnest, he was more bitter than that of any other public man in Wisconsin. But for all that, Mr. Price lived a life worth living. He gave a helping hand to those who needed his help. He was honest in all things, and in the national house of representatives he was an honor to the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The second annual message of President Cleveland to congress is published in full in this issue of the Gazette. Instead of being, as first reports would have it, a short message, it is one of considerable length. The message, as a matter of course, is largely made up of the reports of the various departments of the government.

There is one thing which bothers Mr. Cleveland as well as others connected with the government. He believes that the growing surplus in the treasury is a menace to the government, as it gives rise to extravagance by congress, and generally, of irresponsible financial management. While the president points out the breakers that are ahead, he does not tell congress how it can escape the difficulty. Everybody knows that there will be one of two things done, a reduction of the revenues, or an increase in the appropriations. The president understands this, but he leaves the whole question for congress to settle, and congress has not the courage or the wisdom to settle anything of the kind. Of course he advises a modification of the tariff, but he very cautiously says that he does not want such a reduction to interfere with American labor, a little of the double-faced ideas regarding the tariff which he borrowed from the national democratic platform.

On the silver question, the president remains firm to his former position, which is that there is too much silver coming out, and that an unlimited coinage tends to depreciate the silver dollar. On this point the president is in accord with the republican party in congress, though with his own party.

The president gives civil service reform a boom and applauds himself for having achieved wonders in this line of business. He is very careful, however, not to name any particular instance in which civil service has been successful. Very evidently, the president has caught the spirit of Mr. Tilden, in regard to the navy and our coast defense, for he points out the fact that the navy amounts to nothing and should be re-established. Everybody will agree with the president on this point. The navy is a sham, the defense worthless, and this condition of things should strike congress so forcibly as to drive it into doing some practical work for the navy.

There are many other suggestions in the message to which the attention of the readers of the Gazette is directed.

THE FOUNTAIN OF VITALITY.

The source of physical energy and mental activity is the blood. In the blood become vitiated with bile, or with watery in consequence of indigestion and non-assimilation of the food, and an interruption of the functions of the body, and a loss of strength, health and appetite ensues. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a tonic especially adapted to restore all three, because it assists digestion and assimilation, and removes bile and other impurities from the circulation. Protected and strengthened with the admirable defensive ingredients, the system defies influences inimical to health, to which, if unregulated and feeble, it would undoubtedly succumb. Constipation, often an obstinate and chronic ailment, is entirely removed by it; the liver, kidneys and bladder roused from inaction, and a tendency to rheumatism effectually counteracted. It also eradicates malarial diseases.

CONDENSED NEWS.

E. Price Greenleaf, an aged uncle of Boston, who expired on Sunday, left $200,000 to Harvard college.

King Humbert has sent to President Cleveland a copy of the edition of Dante recently printed for Victor Emmanuel.

On a ship owned by the Allegheny base ball club, the franchise of that company was Monday sold at auction by the sheriff for $30,735.

The supreme court of Missouri has sentenced to death a boy of 16 years, named James S. Payton, for the murder of a child in Christian county.

Law officers of the crown at Dublin have rendered an opinion that indictments can rest against all persons conspiring to defraud landlords of rent duty.

L. O. Warren, of East St. Louis, who pulled out of office for buttor, was taken before the federal judge at Springfield, Ill., and fined $100 and costs.

At Toledo, Ind., Monday, Mrs. Fannie Clesca celebrated her 90th birthday. Her father was of the first founders of Nashville, Tenn. Only one of her fourteen children survives.

CONGRESSMAN PRICE DEAD.

He Passes Away a Few Hours Before His Colleagues Meet in Congress.

EAR CLARK, WIS., Dec. 7.—Thenceforth the death of W. T. Price, congressman-elect for the third time in the Eighth Wisconsin district, which occurred at his home at Black River Falls at 6 o'clock Monday morning, caused unfeigned regret among people of all classes. Although physicians pronounced his case hopeless a few weeks ago, and his family and friends were not prepared to receive the bad tidings so soon and unexpectedly.

(William T. Price was born in Huntington county, Pennsylvania, June 17, 1824, and received a common school education. After removing to Wisconsin he entered into business as a land agent, and in 1851 he was elected to the assembly. He was re-elected a considerable number of times. He was elected to the assembly in 1851, and in the senate in 1857, 1870-1, 1878, '9, '80 and '81, county judge of Jackson county in 1853 and 1855, and collector of internal revenue in 1863-5. He was elected as president of the county board of supervisors, was president of the Jackson county bank. He was a member of the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth congresses, and in November last had been re-elected as a member of the Fifty-first congress. A special election will therefore be necessary to fill the vacancy for the remainder of his present term and another election for the full term which begins March 4th next. By industry and splendid business tact, he had accumulated quite a fortune.

The state can ill-afford to lose such a man as William T. Price. He was a strange character in some respects, but a man of usefulness and power. He was not always consistent in the worldly way of thinking, but that was governed by a firm conviction of duty, no one who knew him would doubt for a moment. His friendship for his friends was as steadfast as the sun, and his hatred of his enemies seemed to know no bounds. In debate he was ready and strong, and in earnest, he was more bitter than that of any other public man in Wisconsin. But for all that, Mr. Price lived a life worth living. He gave a helping hand to those who needed his help. He was honest in all things, and in the national house of representatives he was an honor to the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The second annual message of President Cleveland to congress is published in full in this issue of the Gazette.

Instead of being, as first reports would have it, a short message, it is one of considerable length.

The message, as a matter of course, is largely made up of the reports of the various departments of the government.

There is one thing which bothers Mr. Cleveland as well as others connected with the government.

He believes that the growing surplus in the treasury is a menace to the government, as it gives rise to extravagance by congress, and generally, of irresponsible financial management.

While the president points out the breakers that are ahead, he does not tell congress how it can escape the difficulty.

Everybody knows that there will be one of two things done, a reduction of the revenues, or an increase in the appropriations.

The president understands this, but he leaves the whole question for congress to settle,

and congress has not the courage or the wisdom to settle anything of the kind.

Of course he advises a modification of the tariff, but he very cautiously says that he does not want such a reduction to interfere with American labor, a little of the double-faced ideas regarding the tariff which he borrowed from the national democratic platform.

On the silver question, the president remains firm to his former position, which is that there is too much silver coming out, and that an unlimited coinage tends to depreciate the silver dollar.

On this point the president is in accord with the republican party in congress, though with his own party.

The president gives civil service reform a boom and applauds himself for having achieved wonders in this line of business.

He is very careful, however, not to name any particular instance in which civil service has been successful.

Very evidently, the president has caught the spirit of Mr. Tilden, in regard to the navy and our coast defense, for he points out the fact that the navy amounts to nothing and should be re-established.

Everybody will agree with the president on this point. The navy is a sham, the defense worthless, and this condition of things should strike congress so forcibly as to drive it into doing some practical work for the navy.

There are many other suggestions in the message to which the attention of the readers of the Gazette is directed.

THE FOUNTAIN OF VITALITY.

The source of physical energy and mental activity is the blood.

In the blood become vitiated with bile, or with watery in consequence of indigestion and non-assimilation of the food, and an interruption of the functions of the body, and a loss of strength, health and appetite ensues.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a tonic especially adapted to restore all three, because it assists digestion and assimilation, and removes bile and other impurities from the circulation.

Protected and strengthened with the admirable defensive ingredients, the system defies influences inimical to health, to which, if unregulated and feeble, it would undoubtedly succumb.

Constipation, often an obstinate and chronic ailment, is entirely removed by it; the liver, kidneys and bladder roused from inaction, and a tendency to rheumatism effectually counteracted.

It also eradicates malarial diseases.

CONDENSED NEWS.

E. Price Greenleaf, an aged uncle of Boston, who expired on Sunday, left $200,000 to Harvard college.

King Humbert has sent to President Cleveland a copy of the edition of Dante recently printed for Victor Emmanuel.

On a ship owned by the Allegheny base ball club, the franchise of that company was Monday sold at auction by the sheriff for $30,735.

The supreme court of Missouri has sentenced to death a boy of 16 years, named James S. Payton, for the murder of a child in Christian county.

Law officers of the crown at Dublin have rendered an opinion that indictments can rest against all persons conspiring to defraud landlords of rent duty.

L. O. Warren, of East St. Louis, who pulled out of office for buttor, was taken before the federal judge at Springfield, Ill., and fined $100 and costs.

At Toledo, Ind., Monday, Mrs. Fannie Clesca celebrated her 90th birthday. Her father was of the first founders of Nashville, Tenn. Only one of her fourteen children survives.

CONGRESSMAN PRICE DEAD.

He Passes Away a Few Hours Before His Colleagues Meet in Congress.

EAR CLARK, WIS., Dec. 7.—Thenceforth the death of W. T. Price, congressman-elect for the third time in the Eighth Wisconsin district, which occurred at his home at Black River Falls at 6 o'clock Monday morning, caused unfeigned regret among people of all classes. Although physicians pronounced his case hopeless a few weeks ago, and his family and friends were not prepared to receive the bad tidings so soon and unexpectedly.

(William T. Price was born in Huntington county, Pennsylvania, June 17, 1824, and received a common school education. After removing to Wisconsin he entered into business as a land agent, and in 1851 he was elected to the assembly. He was re-elected a considerable number of times. He was elected to the assembly in 1851, and in the senate in 1857, 1870-1, 1878, '9, '80 and '81, county judge of Jackson county in 1853 and 1855, and collector of internal revenue in 1863-5. He was elected as president of the county board of supervisors, was president of the Jackson county bank. He was a member of the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth congresses, and in November last had been re-elected as a member of the Fifty-first congress. A special election will therefore be necessary to fill the vacancy for the remainder of his present term and another election for the full term which begins March 4th next. By industry and splendid business tact, he had accumulated quite a fortune.

The state can ill-afford to lose such a man as William T. Price. He was a strange character in some respects, but a man of usefulness and power. He was not always consistent in the worldly way of thinking, but that was governed by a firm conviction of duty, no one who knew him would doubt for a moment. His friendship for his friends was as steadfast as the sun, and his hatred of his enemies seemed to know no bounds. In debate he was ready and strong, and in earnest, he was more bitter than that of any other public man in Wisconsin. But for all that, Mr. Price lived a life worth living. He gave a helping hand to those who needed his help. He was honest in all things, and in the national house of representatives he was an honor to the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The second annual message of President Cleveland to congress is published in full in this issue of the Gazette.

Instead of being, as first reports would have it, a short message, it is one of considerable length.

The message, as a matter of course, is largely made up of the reports of the various departments of the government.

There is one thing which bothers Mr. Cleveland as well as others connected with the government.

He believes that the growing surplus in the treasury is a menace to the government, as it gives rise to extravagance by congress, and generally, of irresponsible financial management.

While the president points out the breakers that are ahead, he does not tell congress how it can escape the difficulty.

Everybody knows that there will be one of two things done, a reduction of the revenues, or an increase in the appropriations.

The president understands this, but he leaves the whole question for congress to settle,

and congress has not the courage or the wisdom to settle anything of the kind.

Of course he advises a modification of the tariff, but he very cautiously says that he does not want such a reduction to interfere with American labor,

a little of the double-faced ideas regarding the tariff which he borrowed from the national democratic platform.

On the silver question, the president remains firm to his former position, which is that there is too much silver coming out, and that an unlimited coinage tends to depreciate the silver dollar.

On this point the president is in accord with the republican party in congress, though with his own party.

The president gives civil service reform a boom and applauds himself for having achieved wonders in this line of business.

He is very careful, however, not to name any particular instance in which civil service has been successful.

Very evidently, the president has caught the spirit of Mr. Tilden, in regard to the navy and our coast defense, for he points out the fact that the navy amounts to nothing and should be re-established.

Everybody will agree with the president on this point. The navy is a sham, the defense worthless, and this condition of things should strike congress so forcibly as to drive it into doing some practical work for the navy.

There are many other suggestions in the message to which the attention of the readers of the Gazette is directed.

THE FOUNTAIN OF VITALITY.

The source of physical energy and mental activity is the blood.

In the blood become vitiated with bile, or with watery in consequence of indigestion and non-assimilation of the food, and an interruption of the functions of the body,

and a loss of strength, health and appetite ensues.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a tonic especially adapted to restore all three,

because it assists digestion and assimilation, and removes bile and other impurities from the circulation.

Protected and strengthened with the admirable defensive ingredients, the system defies influences inimical to health, to which, if unregulated and feeble, it would undoubtedly succumb.

Constipation, often an obstinate and chronic ailment, is entirely removed by it; the liver, kidneys and bladder roused from inaction, and a tendency to rheumatism effectually counteracted.

It also eradicates malarial diseases.

CONDENSED NEWS.

E. Price Greenleaf, an aged uncle of Boston, who expired on Sunday, left $200,000 to Harvard college.

King Humbert has sent to President Cleveland a copy of the edition of Dante recently printed for Victor Emmanuel.

On a ship owned by the Allegheny base ball club, the franchise of that company was Monday sold at auction by the sheriff for $30,735.

The supreme court of Missouri has sentenced to death a boy of 16 years, named James S. Payton, for the murder of a child in Christian county.

Law officers of the crown at Dublin have rendered an opinion that indictments can rest against all persons conspiring to defraud landlords of rent duty.

L. O. Warren, of East St. Louis, who pulled out of office for buttor, was taken before the federal judge at Springfield, Ill., and fined $100 and costs.

At Toledo, Ind., Monday, Mrs. Fannie Clesca celebrated her 90th birthday. Her father was of the first founders of Nashville, Tenn. Only one of her fourteen children survives.

CONGRESSMAN PRICE DEAD.

He Passes Away a Few Hours Before His Colleagues Meet in Congress.

EAR CLARK, WIS., Dec. 7.—Thenceforth the death of W. T. Price, congressman-elect for the third time in the Eighth Wisconsin district, which occurred at his home at Black River Falls at 6 o'clock Monday morning, caused unfeigned regret among people of all classes. Although physicians pronounced his case hopeless a few weeks ago, and his family and friends were not prepared to receive the bad tidings so soon and unexpectedly.

(William T. Price was born in Huntington county, Pennsylvania, June 17, 1824, and received a common school education. After removing to Wisconsin he entered into business as a land agent, and in 1851 he was elected to the assembly. He was re-elected a considerable number of times. He was elected to the assembly in 1851, and in the senate in 1857, 1870-1, 1878, '9, '80 and '81, county judge of Jackson county in 1853 and 1855, and collector of internal revenue in 1863-5. He was elected as president of the county board of supervisors, was president of the Jackson county bank. He was a member of the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth congresses, and in November last had been re-elected as a member of the Fifty-first congress. A special election will therefore be necessary to fill the vacancy for the remainder of his present term and another election for the full term which begins March 4th next. By industry and splendid business tact, he had accumulated quite a fortune.

The state can ill-afford to lose such a man as William T. Price. He was a strange character in some respects, but a man of usefulness and power. He was not always consistent in the worldly way of thinking, but that was governed by a firm conviction of duty, no one who knew him would doubt for a moment. His friendship for his friends was as steadfast as the sun, and his hatred of his enemies seemed to know no bounds. In debate he was ready and strong, and in earnest, he was more bitter than that of any other public man in Wisconsin. But for all that, Mr. Price lived a life worth living. He gave a helping hand to those who needed his help. He was honest in all things, and in the national house of representatives he was an honor to the state.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The second annual message of President Cleveland to congress is published in full in this issue of the Gazette.

Instead of being, as first reports would have it, a short message, it is one of considerable length.

The message, as a matter of course, is largely made up of the reports of the various departments of the government.

There is one thing which bothers Mr. Cleveland as well as others connected with the government.

He believes that the growing surplus in the treasury is a menace to the government, as it gives rise to extravagance by congress, and generally, of irresponsible financial management.

While the president points out the breakers that are ahead, he does not tell congress how it can escape the difficulty.

Everybody knows that there will be one of two things done, a reduction of the revenues, or an increase in the appropriations.

The president understands this, but he leaves the whole question for congress to settle,

and congress has not the courage or the wisdom to settle anything of the kind.

Of course he advises a modification of the tariff, but he very cautiously says that he does not want such a reduction to interfere with American labor,

a little of the double-faced ideas regarding the tariff which he borrowed from the national democratic platform.

On the silver question, the president remains firm to his former position, which is that there is too much silver coming out, and that an unlimited coinage tends to depreciate the silver dollar.

On this point the president is in accord with the republican party in congress, though with his own party.

The president gives civil service reform a boom and applauds himself for having achieved wonders in this line of business.

He is very careful, however, not to name any particular instance in which civil service has been successful.

Very evidently, the president has caught the spirit of Mr. Tilden, in regard to the navy and our coast defense, for he points out the fact that the navy amounts to nothing and should be re-established.

Everybody will agree with the president on this point. The navy is a sham, the defense worthless, and this condition of things should strike congress so forcibly as to drive it into doing some practical work for the navy.

There are many other suggestions in the message to which the attention of the readers of the Gazette is directed.

THE FOUNTAIN OF VITALITY.

The source of physical energy and mental activity is the blood.

In the blood become vitiated with bile, or with watery in consequence of indigestion and non-assimilation of the food, and an interruption of the functions of the body, and a loss of strength, health and appetite ensues.

that can be produced.
People's EPICURIAN
TASTES
are highly pleased with them.

THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7.
LOCAL MATTERS.

Pure Ohio cider served at Skinner's.
The finest fancy baskets just received at Sutherland's bookstore.
—Skinner is still kept busy serving cream at evening parties.

Stiff hats in latest styles and in great variety at T. J. Zeigler's.
Sweet Ohio cider at Skinner's.

Pineapples, bananas, pears, grapes, figs, dates, pomegranates and other choice fruit at Denniston's.

For Rent:—A small comfortable tenement No. 50 South Jackson street. Apply at Dr. Palmer's office.

Ladies' hand sewed warm lined house shoes in congress, lace and button, cheap at G. Cogswell & Co's.

Elegant brass top tables $1.49; elegant brass umbrella stands $1.49; sleds 25c up; silver nut cracker 25c; elegant water sets $1.50; large soap cakes 10c; new dinner sets.

West Side Crocker's Store.
Ladies', misses' and children's wool lined rubber boots—cheap at G. Cogswell & Co's.

A large black walnut book case and set rotary, suitable for office use, at the old reliable second hand store of S. F. Sanborn, 65 North Main St.

Tangerine oranges at Denniston's.
For fresh oysters and crackers go to Golling's on West Milwaukee street.

Old fashioned maple syrup at Denniston's.

Two of the finest building lots in the city, centrally located, for immediate sale. C. E. Bowles.

LOWER THAN EVER BEFORE—Read these prices: 12 pounds best grade—ultra sugar, $1.00; choice coffee, 12c; best Tycoon tea, 40c; choice Jap tea, 25c; choice family flour, 85c; headlight oil, 12c; best kerosene, 10c; best baking powder, 40c; good baking powder, 20c; best potatoes, 60c; best turnips, 15c; best prunes, 40c; best salt, $1.10 per barrel; best bird seed, 50c; best oysters, 20c per case; best crackers, 5c; best pig tobacco, 40c; choice plug, 25c; choice smoking, 15c; corn starch, 6c; glass starch, 5c; choice raisins, 8c; best currants, 8c; choice mixed and stock candy, 10c; mixed nuts, 15c; best soap, 5c; good soap 4c; new figs 12c; gloves and mittens at cost. All other goods at cost.

W. T. VANKIRK,
Cheap cash-grocer, 23 Main St.

—Skinner's home-made candy cakes well at progressive evening parties.

To Rent:—A desirable suite of rooms for light housekeeping, located on South Main street. For particulars enquire at this office.

Never in the history of the state has there a cooking stove or range been placed on the market, that has so nearly supplied the demands of the public, and given as universal satisfaction, as the Badger. The ideas in this invention were first, to construct a fire pot and grate, so as to hold a continuous fire. Second, to construct fins for heating the oven in all its parts alike and all boiler holes, at same time. Third, an auxiliary air chamber, surrounding the fire pot and air passages, to admit fresh air into the oven. For sale by John Griffiths, Milwaukee St., and 50 North Main St.

For valuable Encyclopedias, call at Sutherland's bookstore.

For Rent:—Large first class house and barn with eight acres of land if desired. H. E. Blanchard.

Immense line of children's cloaks and Misses' New Markets at very low prices at Arolus Reid's.

All kinds of chairs repaired.
HARRY, Corn Ex. Square.

We are making very low prices on short wraps.
BORT, BARTLEY & Co.

Jersey coffee is roasted from stock selected especially for both strength and fine drinking qualities. Having secured the agency, we would be pleased to have all those who use the article to call, and give this celebrated coffee a trial, and we are sure you will use no other. Price 25 cents a pound for sale only at

BRON & BROWN'S,
East End Grocery.

Homemade candy, chocolate creams and caramels at Golling's. Chairs, tables and refreshments furnished for evening parties.

C. E. Bowles selects from his list of city houses for sale the following special bargains as being "leaders" at the prices named:

One at $5,000. Two at $2,300 each.
One at $4,500. One at $2,000.
One at $4,000. One at $1,800.
Three at $3,000, each. One at $1,100.
One at $2,900. One at $1,000.

Going fast—those beautiful black long hair muffs, that J. M. Boetwick & Sons are slaughtering at 75c each.

$1.00 will buy a good house and two fine lots in last ward, three blocks from the street railway. H. H. BLANCHARD.

Boots, shoes and groceries.
Call and examine our stock of boots and shoes, and in connection, a fine line of groceries, at

J. CHURCHILL & SON'S,
N. 15, Main street.

The best stock and greatest variety of tailor made dress suits ever offered in Janesville at T. J. Zeigler's.

WANTED—An intelligent, earnest man to represent in his own locality, a large responsible house. A remuneration of $100 per month. Apply to J. M. Macfarlane, Room 12 Barclay St., N. Y.

Can't Sleep—Nights in the thousands suffering from complaint of insomnia, Congestion, etc. Did you ever try Chamberlain's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all lung troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c, 50c.

Prentice & Evenson, opp. postoffice.

Children's "dinner" waists cheaper than the raw material at T. J. Zeigler's.

If you want a nice stylish, man-made can please you—both in kind and price. BORT, BARTLEY & Co.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Has increased its circulation twenty-five per cent during the past year. As an advertising medium it is recognized as reliable and effective.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is without a rival in the county. The rates of advertising are always based upon circulation. If you have anything to say to the people of the city or county you can speak to more of them through the columns of the GAZETTE than through any other medium published in the same territory.

Briefs.
—The fire police hold their monthly meeting this evening.

—Attend the Japanese wedding at the Baptist church this evening—admission only 10 cents.

—The next term of the Rock county circuit court will not be called until the fourth Monday in January.

—Every one should witness the wedding at the Baptist church this evening—admission only ten cents.

—Janesville City Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F., assemble in regular weekly meeting this evening at Old Fellows hall.

—United States money, in sums of five cents and over, will be taken at par at the Janesville wedding this evening at the Baptist church.

—Western Star Lodge No. 14, A. F. and A. M., assemble in regular semi-monthly communication this evening at Masonic hall.

—Remember the Japanese wedding and sale of fancy articles at the Baptist church to-night. Shuttle off early to oysters and coffee.

—Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias, assemble in regular weekly session this evening at Castle hall, Jefferson block, West Milwaukee street.

—The city of Janesville has completed a survey of the city for water mains and fire hydrants and now propose to advertise for putting in the plant in the early spring.

—The First Methodist church is to have a "Pyramid" on Christmas eve, on which "Santa Claus" is invited to pile his gifts, an interesting programme is being prepared.

—The Northwestern road has sent out notice that on December 31st all arrangements of every kind for rates differing from the published tariffs of the company will expire.

—John Cunningham, Jr., son of ex-Street Commissioner John Cunningham, is dangerously ill, suffering with consumption. He resides with his parents, on Glen street, second ward.

—Last evening, the Geneva Lake campers met Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Porter, of Fontana Park, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ashcroft, in the third ward. The occasion was a very pleasant one.

—Tanzi Iwakura desires your presence at the marriage of his daughter, Iza-No Iwakura to Ito Ishihashi, Tuesday evening Dec. 7, 1887, at the Baptist church. Ceremony at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

—The latest cigar out is the "Bower City Bites". On each label is a photograph of the company drawn up for dress parade. The cigar is a fine one and Brown, who has it for sale, says that it tastes wonderfully.

—All those who were invited to the last dance of the Y. M. C. O., are also invited to the one on next Thursday evening. The affair is likely to be the pleasantest of this very enjoyable series and Janesville young people should not miss it.

—The case of Hammons against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road and that of McKeigue against the city of Janesville are being prepared for the supreme court. They will probably be heard sometime during the present month.

—For fear that Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murdoch would forget that yesterday was their cotton wedding, thirty of their friends gave them a surprise last night by visiting their pleasant first ward home in a body. The time was very happily spent and much enjoyment resulted.

—The officers elected for the coming year by the O'Connell Branch, I. N. L., are: President—Hugh M. Joyce; vice-president—Patrick Gagen; secretary—John Cunningham, Jr.; executive committee—John Baker, John Crowley, John O'Connell, John Riley and Michael Gagen.

—The ladies of the Baptist church have arranged an interesting and attractive programme for the entertainment at the church this evening, and as the admission has been placed at the low price of only ten cents, the parlors of the church should be crowded. All go and witness the Japanese wedding.

—Mr. Clark Hubbard, business manager of Donovan's Hyers Sisters' Combination, is in the city to-day making arrangements for the appearance of the Hyers Sisters, supported by Sam Luoss, the comedian, and Wallace King, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 16th, at Lippin's Music hall. The company will present the new play, written expressly for the Hyers Sisters, entitled "Out of Bondage". They will have a full house.

—The moonlight nights make skating a very popular pastime for the rivers in excellent condition. Every small boy's voice is now raised for J. H. Gateley, the genial ice dealer. When men began to mark off the river he gave orders that the favorite spot for "pull-away" and "shinny" playing should be left untouched just as long as possible. As a consequence the youngsters and many that are of larger growth are enjoying themselves immensely.

—On Saturday last Steady Pierce, of Lake Koshkonong, shot a monster bald eagle, and yesterday brought the bird to this city, placing it in the hands of Pieron Bros., taxidermists, North Main street, by whom it will be "put up."

The eagle is undoubtedly the largest one ever seen in this locality—it is a Junco—measuring seven feet two inches from tip to tip of wings, and three feet one inch from beak to tail. Mr. Pierce shot the bird while hunting ducks at the lake.

—On the corner of Bluff and East Milwaukee streets there are now sleighs in abundance. Buchholz & Nowles have been getting out their winter stock, and the display is a fine one. The firm have not manufactured many sleighs this year, however, for their carryall trade has in itself been more than they could well handle. They are now finishing a carryall for Fallerton, Iowa, and have several orders ahead, one of them for a full bersers wagon to be shipped to New Orleans. The retail trade has kept up unusually well, and Janesville people realize that by going to this establishment they can buy a hand made buggy or sleigh for the same price that a factory made one would cost anywhere else.

TOBACCO.

Handkerchief sale this week.
N. Y. SAYING STONE.

—Hon. Andrew E. Elmore, president of the State Board of Charities and reform, will arrive in the city this evening, and on to-morrow in company with the committee on disbursement and penal institutions of the Rock County Board of Supervisors, will visit the county poor farm and insane asylum at Johnston, for the purpose of inspecting the same. We understand the State Board declines to investigate the charges preferred against Superintendent Allen, claiming that that matter belongs wholly with the county board of supervisors, and as the committee on charitable and penal institutions are without instructions it is not known what will be done. Hon. F. F. Kimball, chairman of the committee, formed a representative of the Gazette last evening, that the committee, when together to-morrow, would probably take some action, so that the matter might be satisfactorily settled at the January meeting of the board.

—The funeral of John P. Plummer was held this afternoon at three o'clock. A very appropriate sermon was preached by the Rev. T. De Witt Peake, of County Street M. E. church, the remarks being listened to by many of those that had been friends of the deceased and that knew well his good qualities. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, C. B. Conrad, Volney Atwood, James A. Fathers and W. T. Vankirk being the pall bearers.

—Miss Emily E. North, of Albion, Wis., is in the city, spending a few days with her friend Miss Alice M. Walker, of the fourth ward.

—Mrs. Rev. Frank Poorman and her little daughter, Ivy, of Christiana, Ill., arrived at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Morry, of Academy street, last night, and will make them and her many friends of our city a visit of several weeks.

—Mr. M. S. Hughes, of Los Vegas, New Mexico, has been spending a few days visiting old friends. He leaves with his wife for home to-morrow. Mr. Hughes will be remembered as one of the old stand bys of the Janesville accommodation. For the past five years he has been connected with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and is at present running a train between Los Vegas and Albuquerque.

Handkerchief sale this week.
N. Y. SAYING STONE.

—Among the prominent displays of goods now on exhibition for the holiday trade, is the attractive stock of boots and shoes at No. 10 West Milwaukee street, Messrs. Cogswell & Co. seem to appreciate the fact that the people of Janesville and vicinity are willing to pay for a good article, and their extensive stock affords as complete a variety of ladies and misses' fine shoes as can be found in any city house.

Among the leading styles are the noted common sense Waukegan boots and opera last. Also, a large variety of party and dress boots. These goods are all made from the very best grades of stock, and by houses which have an unrivalled reputation. In men's wear and in children's goods, the stock is also complete. The firm has been doing business for the past five months, and already enjoy a liberal share of public confidence and patronage. Call and examine their stock, and you will be convinced that the home market affords as good an assortment of boots and shoes as can be found anywhere at reasonable prices for cash. The goods are bought for cash, which beats the best time on record, and are sold at corresponding rates. The firm make a specialty of manufacturing to order and are prepared to furnish any kind of boots or shoes to measure on short notice.

Outcure cures roughness of the skin, chapped hands or face, sore lips, tan, sunburn, freckles, pimples, blotches and eruptions, making the skin smooth, and is a superior substitute for glycerine, camphor oil, cold cream or vasoline. No lady who values a good complexion should use toilet powders or cosmetics without first applying Outcure.

Frequent application of alcohol abrades the water of the skin, makes it dry and brittle, and impairs its nutrition. This is also true of glycerine. All toilet washes containing glycerine to any considerable extent should be avoided. Substance should be avoided, or sparingly used, which abstract water from the roots of the hair.—Dr. J. C. Lippin's Aspin.

Handkerchief sale this week.
N. Y. SAYING STONE.

—The Farmers' convention to be held at Milton Junction, Wis., Wednesday and Thursday, January the 5th and 6th, 1887, under the auspices of the Rock County Pomona Grange. The following topics will be discussed:

The school mill tax.
The best manner of conducting our farms.

The present license law, and the effect it has on our taxes.

The best methods of raising and feeding corn.

The advantage of being a Patron of Husbandry, and workings of the order. Does Rock County wish to dispense with the municipal court?

Early training of the rising generation. Raising of clover and its effect on the soil.

Horiculture, dairying, domestic animals, etc. etc.

Musical and literary feasts will be furnished to enrich the occasion.

Load up your cart:
Bring your bringall,
Both young and old,
Both great and small.

Fairbank's celebrated Soaps possess the greatest possible cleaning properties.

What Has Been Done Here and Elsewhere.

The Cold Snap Rather Interferes With Business.

WISCONSIN.
Most of the business that is now doing consists of small transactions. Three local firms have men out on the road selling to manufacturers and the reports that come back from them, as to how their goods stand the test, are very encouraging. Sales during the past week have been few and prices about the same as those last reported. Shipments as a matter of course are also light.

Dealers here are very blue although of the opinion that Wisconsin has a very fair prospect before it. The sales of '87 wrappers at bidder prices has had a very depressing effect upon them.

One of the local papers says that the principal sale that has come to light is that of a 175 acre lot comprising the '85 packing of H. H. Tongue & Son put up at Rio, is reported to have been made by the Philadelphia firm of Loeb, Block & Co. Only two other transactions from growers' hands have reached us: Ole Hanson 35 acres to Anderson & Hanson, Stonington, at 8, 6, and 4 cents; P. N. Johnson 58 acres to Jensen on private terms.

LA PRAIRIE.
Quite a large quantity of tobacco has been taken in at La Prairie and Tangle and is being stripped. The quality and color is found to be superior. It will yield a large proportion of wrappers—in some instances over two thirds. Some crows are found to weigh about a pound to seventy leaves.

A number of our farmers were victimized last year in buying their fertilizers. It would be well for all growers to have some of experience pronounce on a sample of their soil. They can then tell exactly what constituents are needed and can govern themselves accordingly.

Some very well disposed tobacco raisers knowing that their soil needs fertilizing every year, spread out preparations that have no value whatever, in their particular case, supposing that they are completely fulfilling the requirements. These fertilizers that are "suitable for any kind of soil," are like cake all medicines, rather uncertain.

NEW YORK.
Inactivity still prevails in this market and the new crop remains, as yet, untouched by the buyer. Sales of the '85 crop occasionally take place, and during the past week we have heard of two sales.

—Baldwinsville Gazette.
Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Galt & Co., tobacco brokers, No. 131 Water street, New York, for the week ending December 6, 1886:

200 cases, crop of 1885, Ohio, 5 to 6 cents.
150 cases, crop of 1885, Pennsylvania, at 10 to 11 cents.
225 cases, crop of 1885, Pennsylvania Havana, 9 to 10 cents.

300 cases, crop of 1885, Wisconsin Havana, at 7 to 9 cents.
100 cases, crop of 1885, State Havana 1884 to 1885.
200 cases, crop of 1884, N. Y. State Havana, at 8 to 11 1/4 cents.

30 cases, crop of 1885, Ohio, 5 to 6 cents.
100 cases, crop of 1885, New England Havana 1884 to 1885.
100 cases, crop of 1885, New England Havana, 18 to 24 cents.
Total cases, 1,085.

CONSUMPTION VALLEY.
Almost all the crop is now stripped, and some of our people are ascertaining their crop, though as a rule the growers prefer to wait until the crop is sold, as it can be done in reasonable time. Most of the dealers prefer to assort and pack their own goods; then they know how the work is done.—American Cultivator.

PENNSYLVANIA.
Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

The best on earth can truly be said of Grigg's Glycerine Salve, which is a sure and speedy cure for cuts, bruises, scalds, burns, wounds, and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, hemorrhoids and all skin eruptions. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

Everybody, but especially the growers, is awaiting the opening of the buying season, which seems to be coming along at a snail's pace. Only two sales of the year's crop are thus far reported.—Lancaster Star.

COURT AND CRIME.

The Heckleman Case—An Adjournment for Stevens—Other Notes.

The jury in the Heckleman case failed to agree upon a verdict. Late yesterday afternoon they gave up the attempt, and Judge Patton announced that they were discharged. It is understood that the ballots were alternately seven to five and six to six for acquittal. A jury for the new trial will be drawn on next Monday morning. Herman Arndt has been held under bonds of one hundred and fifty dollars to appear as a witness when the trial shall take place; and as no one has been found to furnish the security he languishes in jail.

He must also furnish one in the circuit court before he can be set free. His bondsmen, James Worthington, appeared before Judge Bennett yesterday and surrendered him into the hands of the sheriff to be held as a witness in the Lightfoot-Beaver case.

The Stevens case was set for to-day in the municipal court, but was adjourned, by consent, to January 10th.

Three boys were before Judge Patton to-day, charged with stealing oysters. They had taken in all five oans, part from C. E. Curtis and part from W. T. Vankirk. They were sent down for terms of from seven to ten days.

To remove stains of all descriptions use Fairbank's Soaps. Ask your grocer for them.

Here bargains in handkerchiefs, moulters, etc., this week. Immense line of new designs to select from.
N. Y. S. S.

Cash Receipts.
The many friends of Mr. F. Quinn will be pleased to know that he is enjoying a liberal trade at his new dry goods store in the Myers block on Main street. Mr. Quinn's knowledge of the dry goods business dates back to 1833 when he entered the store of an uncle, as a boy. For more than fifty years he has stood behind the counter, and is without doubt the oldest dry goods man in Janesville.

Added to this long experience Mr. Quinn possesses a happy disposition which has made him very popular as a salesman. For the past six months Mr. Quinn has been engaged in business for himself. His stock is very complete and his line of silk handkerchiefs and scarfs for the holiday trade is unusually attractive. His goods are all bought for cash, and he has adopted the cash method for doing business, and his customers invariably go away well satisfied with the bargains he offers. In making up your list of holiday presents, don't overlook the dry goods store of Mr. F. Quinn.